Population Health Approach to Mental Health Services

Online study unit

This online study unit is a core unit of the Graduate Certificate in Mental Health (Child and Adolescent) and the Graduate Certificate in Mental Health (Adult) but may also be undertaken as a standalone unit for professional development.

This unit is conducted wholly online and addresses the key principles of a population health model to mental health promotion, prevention of illness and disability and the provision of treatment and rehabilitation.

It aims to examine the implications that policy and planning have on mental health service development and direct service delivery, to identify and evaluate mental health service reforms and to consider the future development of mental health care.

The concepts and practice of evidence-based practice and values-based practice are also explored.
